Sagemax FAQ's eIFU

What can I find on this site?
This site provides dental professionals online access to the instructions for use for Sagemax products, both current valid IFUs and archived previous versions of IFUs.

What does the IFU symbol mean?
This symbol including the website address on the package of a Sagemax product means that the IFU for that product is available online on this site.

What do the symbols on the packaging mean?
All symbols used on our packaging are explained in the symbols glossary which can be read and downloaded on the page "Symbols glossary" which is found in the menu and on the start page.

How do I print, download or view electronic Instructions for Use?
For the current version, click on the IFU title. The file can be downloaded, viewed, searched or printed using Adobe Reader functionality.

How do I request a paper copy of Instructions for Use?
A paper copy of the IFU can be provided free of charge. Please send an e-mail with the corresponding REF number of the product and your address to: info@sagemax.com

How do I view previous version of Instructions for Use?
Previous versions are displayed in the archive.

What if I can't find the IFU for my product?
If you do not find the IFU that you are searching for, please contact your sales representative or send an e-mail with the corresponding REF number of the product and your address to: info@sagemax.com

How do I change my language setting?
Go to the language setting in the header, select language required from the dropdown. IFUs are provided in the selected language.

How do I know if I have the current version of the Instructions for Use?
The current version is displayed on the home screen.
- Current
- Archive

Upon request, a paper copy of the IFU can be provided free of charge. Please send an e-mail with the corresponding REF number of the product and your address to: info@sagemax.com